

Setwork gets put on the boards

The return of the English setwork play Nothing but the truth at Artscape will provide local Grade 12 learners with an educational boost.

The play is an Artscape production in association with the Siyasanga Cape Town Theatre Company and will be performed at Artscape from 6 to 13 May.

Supported by the Western Cape education department and the HCI Foundation, Nothing but the Truth forms part of the Artscape educational youth development programme that aims to promote social cohesion, good citizenship and empowerment through the arts. The 2015 programme intends to foster multi-cultural consciousness while honouring the legacy of Mandela.

The production is written by South Africa's theatre icon John Kani whose work has been widely performed around the world, including New York, where he and Winston Ntshona won a Tony Award in 1975 for Sizwe Bansi Is Dead and The Island. He has also won numerous awards such as the Safta Life Time Award, Avanti! Hall of Fame Award, Hiroshima Peace Culture Foundation Award and was also voted 51st in the Top 100 Great South Africans in 2004.

Nothing but the Truth is aimed at Grade 12 English learners, who will get the opportunity to experience the play which is taught as literature.

The two-hour play will be presented as a full stage production that will also appeal to the general public.

"The purpose of the educational programme is to assist Grade 12 learners academically by presenting plays which are taught as literature on a theatre stage, therefore putting it in its intended setting," says Marlene Le Roux, director for Artscape Audience Development and Education.

"We will also be introducing learners to theatre and drama production of a high quality, thereby building the audience of the future," concluded Marlene.

Directed by Fatima Dike, Nothing but the Truth is a three cast production offering a thought provoking story of our recent past, a historical education of Apartheid and the struggle for freedom of our people. The play is about a man coming to terms with the past by letting out every bit of resentment and hatred about the past he has been harbouring.

It is a direct play on how some people saw the TRC as allowing people who were guilty of all sorts of crimes against humanity to be set free without paying the price.

The production features well known TV personalities Chris Gxalaba (Soul City, Home Affairs and Stokvel), Zoliswa Kawe (Intersections, Montana and Interrogation Room) and Noxolo Bodlani (Listen to the Silence, The Girl Child as well as The Suit).
